Purpose

Sets out the standards of behaviour expected of everyone involved in Pulse 8's education and training activities. It supports a safe, respectful, and professional environment where all individuals are treated fairly and with dignity.

Scope

This applies to all staff, faculty, students, contractors, volunteers, and any other individuals acting for or on behalf of Pulse 8. It applies in all work, learning, and organisational settings — including in-person, online, and during any related events or activities.

Expected Behaviour

All individuals are expected to:

- Treat others with courtesy, respect, and fairness, regardless of their role
- Follow reasonable instructions from management, faculty, or supervisors
- Understand and follow Pulse 8's policies and procedures
- Act with honesty, care, and professionalism
- Help protect the reputation of Pulse 8 through positive conduct
- Keep confidential information private and secure
- Take part in relevant training and development opportunities
- Avoid any discrimination based on gender, disability, age, religion, family status, race, civil status, sexual orientation, or membership of the Traveller community
- Act to support the health, safety, and wellbeing of themselves and others
- Avoid inappropriate physical contact, unless in an emergency
- Dress appropriately for their role and setting
- Be present and engaged during agreed work or study hours
- Be punctual and respect others' time
- Avoid using offensive language
- Never be under the influence of alcohol, illegal drugs, or other substances that affect performance
